Chief Justice Earl Warren
United States Supreme Court
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Warren:

According to reports there is at present time on the Warren Commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy a New York University law professor by the name of Norman Redlich. This man has been openly connected, according to FBI reports, with several Communist front organizations.

At the same time, Mr. Chief Justice, you yourself have stated that some of the facts that the stated commission has come up with will, for security reasons, be withheld from the American public for many years.

A-115 What I, and all my fellow Americans, would like to know, Mr. Warren, is why a man with known Communist affiliations is being paid our tax money and, at the same time, is being given full access to all the facts which loyal Americans are not supposed to know.

To me this doesn't make sense. It seems to me, Mr. Warren, that, as a servant of your country with an enormous responsibility, you have a duty to make a public explanation immediately concerning the services of Mr. Norman Redlich, or to forthwith dismiss this man from the services of the government.

Sincerely,
Michael Klenman,
Citizen
